

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

QUAHSYM S. PARKER,

Petitioner,

-against-

SUPERINTENDENT OF COXSACKIE
CORRECTIONAL FACILITY,

Respondent.

23-CV-5921 (LTS)

ORDER TO AMEND

LAURA TAYLOR SWAIN, Chief United States District Judge:

Petitioner, who is currently incarcerated at Coxsackie Correctional Facility, brings this pro se petition challenging his June 28, 2019, conviction in the County Court, Dutchess County.¹ For the reasons discussed below, the Court directs Petitioner to file an amended petition within 60 days of the date of this order.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Court may entertain a petition for a writ of habeas corpus on “behalf of a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court only on the ground that he is in custody in violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States.” 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a). Under Rule 4 of the Rules Governing § 2254 Cases, the Court has the authority to review and dismiss a § 2254 petition without ordering a responsive pleading from the state, “[i]f it plainly appears from the petition and any attached exhibits that the petitioner is not entitled to relief in the district court.” Rules Governing § 2254 Cases, Rule 4; see Acosta v. Artuz, 221 F.3d 117, 123 (2d Cir. 2000).

The Court is obliged, however, to construe pro se pleadings liberally and interpret them “to raise the strongest arguments they suggest.” Triestman v. Fed. Bureau of Prisons, 470 F.3d 471, 474 (2d Cir. 2006) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted) (emphasis in original); see Green v. United States, 260 F.3d 78, 83 (2d Cir. 2001). Nevertheless, a pro se litigant is not exempt “from compliance with relevant rules of procedural and substantive law.” Triestman, 470 F.3d at 477 (quoting Traguth v. Zuck, 710 F.2d 90, 95 (2d Cir. 1983)).

BACKGROUND

Petitioner alleges that, on June 28, 2019, he pleaded guilty in the County Court, Dutchess County, to criminal possession of a weapon in the second degree, driving while intoxicated, and unlawful possession of marijuana. He was sentenced to twelve years of imprisonment and five years of post-release supervision. Court records indicate that, on August 25, 2021, the New York Supreme Court Appellate Division, Second Department (“Appellate Division”), affirmed the conviction and, on November 22, 2021, the New York Court of Appeals (“Court of Appeals”) denied him leave to appeal. See People v. Parker, 197 A.D.3d 741 (2d Dep’t Aug. 25, 2021), leave denied, 37 N.Y.3d 1098 (2021).

Petitioner raises two specific grounds for relief: (1) that the judge presiding over his case was a former prosecutor who had a “personal problem” with his father, Darren Parker, stemming from a prior case and should have recused himself; and (2) that the trial court lacked jurisdiction to adjudicate the case. (ECF 1, at 3-4.) However, he provides a statement in support of the petition in which he gives a narration of the events leading to his arrest and his criminal proceedings. In that statement, Petitioner asserts other violations stemming from his criminal proceedings, but it is not clear whether he is raising these as additional grounds for relief from his conviction.

DISCUSSION

A. Applicable Statute of Limitations

Petitioner's application may be time barred. A prisoner seeking habeas relief under Section 2254 must generally file a petition within one year from the latest of four benchmark dates: (1) when the judgment of conviction becomes final; (2) when a government-created impediment to making such a motion is removed; (3) when the constitutional right asserted is initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if it has been made retroactively available for cases on collateral review; or (4) when the facts supporting the claim(s) could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)-(2). If a direct appeal is taken, the conviction is final following "the expiration of [the] 90-day period of time to petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States." Warren v. Garvin, 219 F.3d 111, 112 (2d Cir. 2000).

Petitioner was convicted and sentenced on June 28, 2019, in the County Court, Dutchess County. The Appellate Division affirmed the conviction on August 25, 2021, and the Court of Appeals denied him leave to appeal on November 22, 2021. Petitioner's conviction became final on February 21, 2022,² following the expiration of the 90-day period to petition for certiorari in the Supreme Court, and he had until February 21, 2023, to file a timely petition. The Court received the petition on July 10, 2023,³ more than four months after the one-year statute of limitations period had expired.

² Because the end of the 90-day period fell on Sunday, February 20, 2022, the period continued to run until the next court-business day, Monday, February 21, 2022. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(a)(1)(C).

³ Petitioner signed the petition on July 6, 2023, and it was mailed to the court by his father. (See ECF 1, at 2.)

Under the habeas statute, when postconviction motions are filed before the expiration of the statute of limitations, those motions and related state-court proceedings may toll the statute of limitations. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(2). Postconviction motions filed after the limitations period expires, however, do not start the limitations period anew. “[P]roper calculation of Section 2244(d)(2)’s tolling provision excludes time during which properly filed state relief applications are pending but does not reset the date from which the one-year statute of limitations begins to run.” Smith v. McGinnis, 208 F.3d 13, 17 (2d Cir. 2000). Section 2244(d)(2) applies only if a petitioner’s postconviction motion was pending within the one-year limitations period.

In the statement in support of the petition, Petitioner alleges that he filed a postconviction motion under New York Criminal Procedure Law § 440.10. (See ECF 1, at 8.) He does not provide the date he filed the motion or the date it was denied. Based on the information provided, it is not clear whether Petitioner’s postconviction proceedings in the New York state courts tolled the limitations period.

The Court therefore grants Petitioner leave to submit an amended petition in which he alleges facts showing why this application should not be denied as time barred.

B. Rule 2 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases

In addition, an individual who is incarcerated or restrained under a state court judgment of conviction and seeks to challenge that conviction must submit a petition that conforms to the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases. Rule 2(c) requires a petition to specify all of a petitioner’s available grounds for relief, setting forth the facts supporting each of the specified grounds and stating the relief requested. A petition must permit the Court and the respondent to comprehend both the petitioner’s grounds for relief and the underlying facts and legal theory supporting each ground so that the issues presented in the petition may be adjudicated.

Petitioner does not clearly specify all of his grounds for relief and the supporting facts as required by Rule 2(c). The grounds he is raising and the constitutional basis for each ground are not clearly identified in the submission. Petitioner is directed to amend his petition to provide clear constitutional grounds for relief and facts to support them.

C. Leave to Amend

The Court grants Petitioner leave to submit an amended petition within 60 days of the date of this order. Petitioner is directed to allege facts showing why this application should not be denied as time barred. Petitioner should include in his amended petition a listing of the following: (1) the dates on which he filed each of his postconviction collateral state court applications and motions in which he challenged this conviction, including any application for error coram nobis relief, all motions under New York Criminal Procedure Law § 440, and any other postconviction collateral applications and motions; (2) the dates on which the state courts issued decisions as to any of those applications or motions; (3) the dates on which he filed any appeals or applications for leave to appeal from those decisions; (4) the dates on which the state courts issued decisions on those appeals or applications; and (5) the dates on which he received notice of any state court decisions on those applications and appeals. Petitioner should allege any facts that show that he has been pursuing his rights diligently, that his postconviction filings tolled the limitations period, or that some extraordinary circumstance prevented him from timely submitting this petition. See Holland v. Florida, 560 U.S. 631, 649 (2010) (holding that one-year limitations period under Section 2244(d) for habeas corpus petitions under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 is subject to equitable tolling in appropriate cases).

Should Petitioner decide to file an amended petition, it must comply with Rule 2(c) by clearly setting forth all of his grounds for habeas corpus relief and the facts that support each ground. Petitioner may do so by fully completing the Section 2254 amended petition form, laying out each constitutional claim and the supporting facts. Petitioner must also detail the steps he has taken to exhaust those grounds fully in the New York courts.⁴

Petitioner is advised that an amended petition completely replaces the original petition. Thus, he must include all facts and information in the amended petition that he would like the Court to consider.

CONCLUSION

The Court directs Petitioner to file an amended petition containing the information specified above. The amended petition must be submitted to this Court's Pro Se Intake Unit within 60 days of the date of this order, be captioned as an "Amended Petition" and bear the same docket number as this order. An Amended Petition Under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 form is attached to this order, which Petitioner should complete as specified above. If Petitioner timely files an amended petition, the Court will review it and, if proper, will order the Respondent to answer. If Petitioner fails to comply with this order within the time allowed, and cannot show good cause to excuse such failure, the petition will be denied. No answer shall be required at this time.

Because Petitioner has not at this time made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right, a certificate of appealability will not issue. See 28 U.S.C. § 2253.

⁴ Prior to bringing a Section 2254 petition, an individual who is seeking relief from a state court judgment must exhaust all available state remedies. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b); see also Rose v. Lundy, 455 U.S. 509, 510 (1982). This exhaustion doctrine means that the state courts must be given the first opportunity to review constitutional errors associated with a petitioner's confinement. O'Sullivan v. Boerckel, 526 U.S. 838, 844-45 (1999).

The Court certifies pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) that any appeal from this order would not be taken in good faith and therefore in forma pauperis status is denied for the purpose of an appeal. See Coppedge v. United States, 369 U.S. 438, 444-45 (1962).

- (1) A one-year period of limitation shall apply to an application for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court. The limitation period shall run from the latest of -
 - (A) the date on which the judgment became final by the conclusion of direct review or the expiration of the time for seeking such review;
 - (B) the date on which the impediment to filing an application created by State action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the applicant was prevented from filing by such state action;
 - (C) the date on which the constitutional right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if the right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or
 - (D) the date on which the factual predicate of the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

- (2) The time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending shall not be counted toward any period of limitation under this subsection.

Therefore, petitioner asks that the Court grant the following relief:

or any other relief to which petitioner may be entitled.
